Many Contribute To Student Loan, College Library

Many students attending Potomac State College will benefit in years to come from the generosity of organizations and individuals who have been making contributions to the National Defense Student Loan Fund at the college.

In accordance with the National Defense Education Act of 1958, the Federal Government adds to the fund in a 9-1 ratio, or $9 for every $1 contributed to the college fund.

The Circle K Club of the college recently swelled the funds by making a $100 contribution, which will be matched with $900 from the government for a total of $1,000.

Many other contributors from the area have donated a total of $910 which, added to the government's matching dollars, will provide a total of $9,100 for student loans.

Miss Mary F. Shipper, librarian, has also announced that numerous books have been given to the Library as memorial gifts for the late Prof. Norman E. Rodgers, Mr. Paul J. Davis, Mrs. James McGuffie, Mrs. E. V. Romig, and Dr. T. T. Huffman.

Adult Education Classes Planned

The college plans to continue its evening adult education classes beginning with the fall term, according to President Todd H. Bullard.

The plans include provisions for those who are trying to complete their work toward baccalaureate degrees or associate degrees in the occupational fields as well as courses of a general cultural nature.

The adult educational program was begun last fall with an enrollment of about 100 students. Those interested may write the Director of Admissions at the college. Program offerings will be available the latter part of June.

Ground Broken For New Auditorium, Fine Arts Building on Arcadia Hts.

Construction is now underway on the new combined auditorium-fine arts building, corner of B and Arnold Sts., and site of the former barracks known as Arcadia Heights.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were conducted in a special ceremony March 22 with Mrs. Gilbert S. Bachmann, of Wheeling, member of the Board of Governors and a 1939 graduate of the college, turning the first spadeful of earth. She is the former Miss Mildred V. Jackson of Romney.

President Todd H. Bullard gave the opening remarks followed by Mayor Harland D. Ridder of Keyser; Leonard G. Withers, chairman of the music department, for the departments which will occupy the building; Steven R. Smith of Beryl, president of the student body; Dr. E. E. Church, Charleston, former president and now executive secretary of the West Virginia Commission on Higher Education.

An informal reception followed in the lounge of Davis Hall.

Others on hand were Robert J. Bennett, Morgantown, architect for the structure; Paul Bridges, regional manager of Mellon-Stuart Company's Fairmont office; and Milt Gebhardt, Pittsburgh, general superintendent for the project. Bennett was also architect for the college Library and Friend Hall.

Cost of the building is estimated at $1,333,000 and Mellon-Stuart of Pittsburgh's bid was $1,235,000. The building, which will be air-conditioned throughout, will house the departments of music, drama, fine arts, and possibly speech. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of about 940 persons. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by the spring of 1967.

Oct. 1 Is Date Set For Homecoming

Homecoming '66 has been set for Saturday, October 1, according to Mrs. Robert T. Coffman '36, Director of Alumni Affairs. The Classes of 1916 and 1941 will observe their 50th and 25th anniversaries.

Any former students who would like to promote a reunion among their classmates for Homecoming are invited to write Mrs. Coffman at the college.

MRS. MCKEE HONORED

Mrs. K. S. McKee, wife of the late Dean McKee, was recently honored by Alpha Xi Delta Sorority for having been a member for 50 years. She received a colorful 50-year plaque, "Order of the Rose," from national headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind.

Speakers Listed For Sermon And Commencement

Dr. Shepherd L. Witman, president of the Regional Council for International Education at the University of Pittsburgh, will give the address for members of the 1966 graduating class in the college gymnasium on Friday morning, May 27.

Dr. Witman accompanied President Bullard on his recent trip to Morocco.

The event may mark the last commencement to be held in the gymnasium since the new combined auditorium-fine arts building will probably be ready for occupancy by the spring of 1967.

A Potomac State alumnus, the Rev. William W. Beale, minister of Central-Summerfield Methodist Church, Baltimore, will de-

Foundation Fund Continues Growth

Contributions to the 1966 Alumni Foundation drive continue to come in from across the United States. The Foundation currently has $5,000 placed in a trust fund, the income from which is used to award the alumni scholarships. The growth of the Foundation has permitted the granting of two scholarships for the coming year.

Additional gifts have been received as memorials to Prof. Norman E. Rodgers, Paul J. Davis '12, Mrs. E. V. Romig, Miss Ida M. Peters, Walter Huffman, Harry A. Sliger, and Warren Boggs. Making contributions were Mrs. Virginia Kolhorst, Dr. Imogene Dever, Mrs. Robert Coffman, Dr. Nancy M. Miller, the Women's Residence Association of PSC, Mrs. William A. March, Dr. Elizabeth Atwater, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Church, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. David G. Nuzum, Orval P. Anderson, Kenneth F. Haines, Claude J. Terrell, T. Warner Lowry, and Richard Davis.

College Planning Revised Programs In Several Fields

A revised series of occupational programs will be offered at Potomac State College in the fall, including four different programs of study in secretarial science in the following specialized fields: bilingual, technical, executive, and medical.

The proposed plans include the addition of another faculty member and a gradual phasing-out of the general program.

A revised occupational program, with two years of study leading to an associate in arts degree, is planned in agriculture, accounting, and one new program in engineering. Officials hope also, to be able to introduce a course in computer science.

The purpose of the revision is to make available a number of opportunities here for the student who does not want to go beyond the two-year level. While vocational courses will be stressed, the program will also include courses of a substantial general educational content.

All of this has grown out of a series of studies, one of which was chaired by Dean James T. Handlan, and a series of meetings with area business and industrial leaders.

Freshman Week Begins August 30

College officials are anticipating about a 15 per cent increase in enrollment over last fall when Freshman Week for 1966-67 opens on Tuesday, Aug. 30, by virtue of changes in the college calendar. Last year the full-time equated students numbered about 771 with a total number registered hovering near 870.

Class work will begin Tuesday, Sept. 6, and extend to Wednesday, Dec. 14. Final examinations will close the first semester on Dec. 21. The second semester will open Jan. 5 with registration for both freshmen and sophomores. Commencement will be held Friday, May 12. This calendar closely resembles that of West Virginia University for the coming year.

College Receives Grants of $39,305 To Assist Students

Potomac State College has received grants totaling $39,305 to be used to assist worthy students in pursuit of higher education.

According to President Todd H. Bullard the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation, Pittsburgh, recently informed the college of a $2,000 grant for the Benedum Loan Fund and $3,700, a substantial increase over last year, for the Benedum Scholarship Fund.

Under terms of the Higher Education Act of 1965, Potomac State has received $15,020 for Educational Opportunity Grants, these being outright grants "to students of exceptional need who show evidence of academic or creative promise."

Area high schools have been informed of the availability of the grants which range from $200 to $800.

A third grant of $18,585 has come to the college under the College Work-Study Program of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, under which the student performs work for the college and is compensated for it. The program will enable 33 students to have employment beginning with the fall term.

Part of the Potomac State program under the grant includes a cooperative arrangement with the Keyser Area, Appalachian Center, WVU, under which students are placed with County Extension Offices for summer employment.

G. David Satterfield, an alumnus of Potomac State College who is now public relations supervisor for the Marbon Chemical Division, Borg-Warner Corp., Parkersburg, was the guest speaker for the annual Press Banquet sponsored by the Pasquino staff on April 29.

A native of Clarksburg, Satterfield is a graduate of Lumberport High School. He received an Associate in Arts degree in 1958 from Potomac State where he served as editor of the college newspaper. He continued his upper division work at West Virginia University where he was editor in chief of the Daily Athenaeum and was granted his BS degree in journalism in 1960.

Prior to joining the staff at Marbon, he was for three years head of employee communications for the South Charleston Plant, Chemicals Division, Union Carbide Corp., and for a year was a public relations account executive with Ketchum, MacLeod & Grove, Inc., Pittsburgh.

During the banquet James A. Blair, Lonaconing, Md., was introduced as editor of the Pasquino for the 1966-67 term. Miss Katharine Ann Stephen, Keyser, was named news editor. She is the daughter of John Stephen ('48) and Dorothy Hamill Stephen ('41). Associate editors will be Wendell Cochran, Mathias, and Miss Barbara Angle, Westernport. The latter is the current holder of the alumni scholarship. Sports editor will be Donald Dunn, Westernport, whose brother, Robert, also held that position when he attended Potomac State.

President Named To Commission; Study Published

President Todd H. Bullard has been appointed to a four-year term on the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The Commission is one of three within the North Central Association, others being the Commission on Research and Service and the Commission on Secondary Schools.

President Bullard's doctoral dissertation, "Labor and the Legislature," the first comprehensive study of the political strength of organized labor in the state, has been published by the WVU Bureau for Government Research and edited by the WVU Office of Publications.

The publication, a revised and abridged version of his dissertation, provides West Virginians with a detailed examination of the influence exerted by the West Virginia Labor Federation (AFL-CIO) during the years 1957-61.
